EthSigner transaction signer

What is EthSigner?

EthSigner is an open-source, client-agnostic, Ethereum transaction signer developed under the Apache 2.0 license and written in Java. EthSigner separates private key management from transaction validation by signing transactions using a private key that can be secured in a variety of cloud providers, or encrypted on a local disk.

Is EthSigner part of ConsenSys Quorum?

Yes. ConsenSys Quorum is the complete open source blockchain layer with enterprise support available from ConsenSys .

New to ConsenSys Quorum?

Get started with the Quorum Developer Quickstart . Use the quickstart to rapidly generate local Quorum blockchain networks. Edit this page Last updatedonMar 30, 2023 byEric LinNext How To