I was wondering once Mainnet launches will Engima still remain EVM compatible? Also, what kind of software will be required to run a full non-mining node on the network? A forked Enigma repo version of Parity/Geth or something entirely different? Thanks!