What should be done to develop on testnet?

Is it possible to develop on testnet without docker?

Like if I want to develop using secretJs template , what should have already been done in my local device?