I was wondering if P.o.S. could help secure distributed computing processes? Simulations or MMO's

I've been working on a scaling solution where sidechains behave like multiple threads. So I wanted any feedback to keep that in mind.

I've got a hunch right now, but I just want to make sure so I can plan a research trajectory after my solution.