I'm also a student. On my resume I talk about the libraries I use and the different ML techniques I'm trying.

I'm just spitballing here but if you keep submitting it for ~20 of rounds you can include your place on the leaderboard and if you stake at all you can say your ROI. Something like "I'm so good at Machine Learning that a hedge fund paid me N dollars to use my predictions to bet on the stock market {link to your numerai leaderboard profile}.
