This site is for discussing Arbitrum development, research, and ideas for improvement. It is open to everyone but focuses on research-oriented technical discussions. The language of discussion is English.

This is not the place for:

- product support queries,

- discussions about business strategy or product plans,

- general tutorials about Arbitrum or other blockchain technology,

- promoting your company or product.

Non-substantive comments or "me too" type comments will generally be deleted.
