Hi all.

Everyone in the DAO is constantly busy discussing serious topics. But we all know that constant tension leads to stress, which entails many harmful consequences. Can create entertaining content for a change or something like that? I mean something fun, interesting, relaxing, maybe a game. A number of studies have shown that the game contributes to the release of endorphins, creativity, and increased brain function.

Who has any suggestions?