Hey Lido Members,

We've developed a tipping protocol that helps boost community engagement by rewarding valuable contributors. (With points, crypto or reputation) - on-chain

We want to gauge interest by first seeing where it would be most useful for DAOs.

I have two questions:

1. Would you be interested in enabling users to tip each other here on discourse? (The idea being to increase engagement of native members)

2. Would you be interested in increasing engagement for your tweets? (By rewarding users who like/ retweet or comment on your tweets)

This will help us know what's most interesting to you. The protocol is ready and I'm happy to share links if there is interest in taking a look.
