openmev.org / docs.openmev.org were offline for approximately 3 hours today due to a DNS updates not persisting after a migration of hosting providers (netlify to vercel).

If you tried to access the website, we can verify that there are no issues at this point. Note this does not affect the RPC provider/infrastructure, only frontend website and documentation portals.