Our problems here have some of those characteristics, but clearly not all of them. But what does "formulate the TC problem" as being wicked even mean? And how would it help?