Currently it's impossible to run full node behind censorship-resistant proxies such as tor. This poses a problem for nodes; and even bigger trouble for stakers.

As far as I understand, TOR doesn't support UDP while it's required for current gossip. What's needed to be kept in mind while designing an alternative networking protocol? How feasible is this, at all?