We completed our reviews of this spell on Friday. We found a minor error in the comment, not the code. (The comment should say Executive Vote, and not Poll.)

We've decided to move forward with publishing. The comment is not a simple thing to correct and would require more reviews and multiple hours of dev time. We will work with the dev teams to strengthen the review process going forward to eliminate such errors.

Update

: the dev teams have updated the Executive Spell review checklist to include clear guidelines for code comments.
