@objectscience one big important thing to note is that corr in signals is correlation to a feature neutral target. This is very different than corr in the main tournament and much closer to FNC. I fully expect that good corr and tb200 models on Signals will have good TC.