Phase 0 has officially ended and soon team will unlock 36M OP token and distribute it to the Phase 0 projects.

Same steps will happen for Phase 1 projects when voting will end for Phase 1. Similar to Phase 0 proposals, I have gone through all the Phase 1 Proposals, I have followed them, suggested them something and learned something from them.

Now, I will cast my vote and would like to know how the project(s) are spending those token given to them.

Some are saying I can follow the token recipient address on-chain(here I can only see the amount and address, what I want to know is whether the amount was given for Dev/Marketing/integration and so on…)while other are giving privacy reason (valid reason)as not to share the spending data.

Why I want to know:-

1. As a delegate, I am passionate about this gov model and I want support this ecosystem but I need tools, this data is the tool, I trust data more than words

2. It will help me in making better decision.

3. We can see and learn from them.

4. If same project is submitting another proposal, their past data will help us decision making.

5. Without accountability, there are chances that fund might not be used at right places.

6. This will help me become a better delegate, with data to support my judgement call, I will learn from them and use them as tool to make better judgement call.

If projects(s) are not willing to share he data directly to me, will they share it with OP Team and they can anonymize and share it with us.

I want to know your opinion and team opinion on this.
