While I believe that community, governance, grants, reinvention, monoliths are important, but for sustainability, growth, health, there are other more important factors that needs attention. Is it possible to:

1. Can they create value beyond the current practices

I'll assert that while the things on the right are important, those on the left are more important.

1. Value

before Community

1. Coordination Games

over Governance

1. Self-sustainability

over Grants

1. Renovation

over Reinvention

1. Modules

over Monoliths

Looking forward to your views.

Cheers!!!
