How about next time original & translation must apply retroPGF as a single project.

And they can distribute reward within their projects themselves.

Many of project already apply as one. This is fairer and less work for badgeholders.

Non-English Local language Educators

all End user UX adoption

We need to world to join OP ecosystem. But 50% of world population is not English-native. Local educator contributions give tremendous growth to OP collective. Also note that Non-English usually prefer and react to local...
