Is it possible to retrieve the predictions calculated by a model that we uploaded (to Model Uploads)?

The use case is to make an ensembling (a meta model) without repeating calculations.

If so, can the predictions be accessed by another Model Upload? It would be important that the one mixing predictions runs after, of course.