We recently built a Contributor reputation dashboard for dYdX DAO contributors to show their participation in the DAO across different systems. You can find the dashboard here: https://dydx.karmahq.xyz/

To index contributor's forum activity, participants have to link their forum handle/username to their wallet. This will associate forum activity to that wallet and boost your reputation score. We would like to use this thread for contributors to sign a message using their wallet and post it here so we can link.

This is completely optional and only needed if you like to see your forum contributions in the dashboard. To link your wallet, simply login to the dashboard and navigate to social handles and click "Link your Forum handle" and follow the steps.
