Hi, I'm Yinan, a columnist from the Chinese-speaking world, and Eigenlayer's innovation in serving AVS through shared ETH security is to be applauded, especially with its own DA layer. I strongly agree with the vision of the Eigenlayer protocol and have been actively involved in the project. I wrote an introductory article about Eigenlayer a long time ago, which can be viewed by members of the Chinese community here

I'm eager to help more Chinese community members understand the Eigenlayer protocol, so I've created this Chinese community to help people better understand and communicate about Eigenlayer.
