you should include all of your models in the same compute instance. That's what the model ID is used for; one API key, 10 model ID's. One account, 10 models, one AWS instance.