Hi everyone, after placing a comment in this forum in regards to unstaking from the DYDX saftey pool, I was contacted in the forum and via email that I used to register here with a responce ticket, I followed the directions of the '"dev"' on the other side of the ticket and after connecting my Metamask wallet it started switching between chains and draining funds. My main wallet got drained across meltable chains. After disconnecting I checked the different wallets that the funds got drained to and some were over 1.5 million in value

there is probably nothing that can be done about this and I will rebuild over time but just thought I would mention it as I may save one of you from getting scammed the same way, all the best and say safe
