For example the projects which are integrating uniswap with there project will receive some percentage of fees generated through there project.

Users received their rewards so they are now more dedicated to uniswap, i think projects will feel the same way. After all they are also the users of uniswap.