This is a forum post centred on discussion about a possible newCIP which would introduce a standardised querying interface for clients to use to estimate gas usage and gas pricing for transactions. This is designed to promote the entry of third party providers specialising in this service and competing to offer the most reliable and accurate estimations.