Assignment statement

Anassignment statement moves a value into the specified target.

An assignment statement consists of alvalue followed by an equals sign (=) and a expression. After the assignment, the value of thelvalue is changed to the value of the expression.