Since this question is being asked a lot, if your address in ineligible to receive the 400 UNI airdrop, then you didn't meet the requirement.

The requirement was simple: The snapshot for this airdrop was held on September 1, 2020, at 12:00 am UTC

. Anyone who hasn't used Uniswap before this snapshot is not eligible for the airdrop.

How to claim the UNI

You can easily claim your UNI tokens in just a few steps:

1. Visit the one of the Uniswap trading pages (ETH/USDT example).

2. Connect your ETH wallet.

3. If your wallet is eligible you will see a popup in the Uniswap app (top right corner).

4. Click on "Claim your tokens" and approve the transaction. Don't forget to set the right gas limit (https://ethgasstation.info/). Currently gas fees are high, myself I used 90,000 gas and 800 GWEI.

That's it!

More info:

- 60% of the UNI genesis supply is allocated to Uniswap community members, a quarter of which (15% of total supply) has already been distributed to past users

Token Allocation:

- 60.00% to Uniswap community members [600,000,000 UNI]

- 21.51% to team members and future employees with 4-year vesting [215,101,000 UNI]

- 17.80% to investors with 4-year vesting [178,000,000 UNI]

- .069% to advisors with 4-year vesting [6,899,000 UNI]

Claiming the airdrop:

- 15% of UNI [150,000,000 UNI]

can immediately be claimed by historical liquidity providers, users, and SOCKS redeemers/holders based on a snapshot endingSeptember 1, 2020, at 12:00 am UTC.

- 49 million UNI

are claimable by historical liquidity providers. The formula accounts for LP liquidity on a per-second basis since the deployment of Uniswap v1, ensuring that rewards are weighted towards LPs that provided liquidity when total liquidity was low.

- 400 UNI are claimable by each address that has ever called the Uniswap v1 or v2 contracts. This includes ~12,000 addresses that have only ever submitted failed transactions — love you guys.

Have a great day & thanks a lot to the Uniswap team!