Governance should signal its preference for a deployment of V3 on Polygon.

It's a win-win situation. It wouldn't exclude deployment on Optimism, of course.

There is literally 0 risk here. Matic is Ethereum friendly. Aave, Curve and Sushi already on it.

Many L2s is better than just one L2. While I really love and support the work of Optimism, I see no reason for Uniswap to put all its eggs in one L2 basket (Optimism) at this point.

I just can't see why it would be a bad idea, considering all the congestion.

PS : Even with the new licensing scheme, nobody can stop an anon from deploying their pirate fork/version of V3 on L2s. Governance should frontrun such anons.

Edit : Polygon isn't an L2 technically, it's a sidechain.